Window operations, drag & drop ...

Tips for beginners

1) Perfect Screens window (and all toolbars) can be resized - click on this button in the Perfect Screens window and select Resizing frame item. Then you can use resizing frame of the window to change size or shape.
2) Perfect Screens window (and all toolbars) can be moved to any position on the desktop - click on this button in the Perfect Screens window and select Move item. You are draging the window to position you like and then click again.
3) Shape of buttons and size of icons can be changed - click on this button in the Perfect Screens window and select Application settings... item. In the dialog go to the Buttons and Icons section and define configuration you like. (For the toolbars is the procedure the same - just click the button on a toolbar.)
4) Right mouse click takes effect on all buttons with an icon and all menus with icons - you can do right click on any button of a toolbar and see menu of available operations. Or you can right click on any item in a screen menu and get the same menu.
5) The sound played when switching screens can be changed (or removed) - do right click on the a screen button and in menu shown select Screen settings. In the dialog appeared press button Change sound. You can specify other sound file or let it blank for no sound played.
6) If you have a fast machine you may take advantage from some cool features (e.g., Local wallpaper - in screen settings, Save eyes when screens are switching - in application settings/advanced).
7) You can copy/move windows among screens - carefully look at pictures in this help and read Perfect Screens help.
8) Perfect Screens window can be put to the TaskBar - in the Application settings... in Position section select In TaskBar.
9) The fastes & easisest way to customize your screen menues and Toolbars is to drag a file or shortcut from the Explorer or desktop and drop it on a screen button in the Perfect Screens window or on the menu button ( ) of a Toolbar.
