

CLUB 69 README FILE

When you read this file you have already installed the Club 69 CD-ROM.

Here are some notes about running the program.

You only need an 256-color vga card to run the program, but we recommend you use a true color or hi-color card for optimum colors. When you have got a vga card capable of 640x480 in true or hi color it is best that you install the drivers wich came with your card .

We also recommend that you have a sound card, without is you will hear no sound. If you have not allready done so you must install Video For Windows before you run the program, there is an icon in the Club 69 group.

Some common problems:

Slow animation :

try a different screen mode or try upgrading your card drivers or your complete card, there are several low-cost windows accellerators available this will speed your averall windows preformance.

No sound :

do you have a sound card, is it connected, are your speakers turned on, are your windows drivers for this card installed, is the mixer output of your card turned on.

No animation:

Did you install the Video For Windows runtime, is the cd in your drive, is the drive number the same as when you instaled.

Bad colors during animation:

Install a true color or hi color video driver for your vga card the program runs at its best in true color
