Web Page Update Notifier

Web Page Update Notifier is a time-saving tool that monitors your favorite pages on the World Wide Web for changes. When it finds changes to a page that interests you, Web Page Update Notifier notifies you so that you only need to go in and look at the page if there have been changes.

The number of pages you can monitor is almost unlimited and the monitoring process takes place without you having to do anything after Web Page Update Notifier has been configured. Simply start Web Page Update Notifier and it continues to run in the background while you're working in other applications.

How Web Page Update Notifier works

When you start Web Page Update Notifier for the first time, you need to add some Web pages to the collection. Any page you add to the collection is monitored for changes. After you've added a page, you can specify how frequently you want Web Page Update Notifier to monitor the page for changes. By default, the scan frequency is Daily.

You can leave Web Page Update Notifier running in the background and it will scan each of the Web pages at the times you specified. If you choose not to leave Web Page Update Notifier running, each time you start the program, it checks the configuration for each page to determine which pages to scan for changes.

NewsScan

The number of news articles that appear on the World Wide Web's many newsgroups is growing every day. Finding articles that interest you and filtering out those that don't is becoming more time-consuming. NewsScan checks a Usenet news server for articles that meet criteria you select at a frequency you specify. When NewsScan finds articles that meet your criteria, it downloads them to your computer for easy viewing.

The number of search criteria that you can add to NewsScan is almost unlimited and the monitoring process takes place without you having to do anything after you've entered your search criteria.

How NewsScan works

When you start NewsScan for the first time, specify some criteria for NewsScan to use when monitoring the newsgroups. After you've added some search criteria, specify how often you want NewsScan to check the newsgroups. By default, the frequency is set to Daily.

You can leave NewsScan running in the background and it will scan the newsgroups for your criteria at the frequency you've specified.

QuoteScan

For the avid investor or stock market enthusiast, tracking stock prices can be tricky and time-consuming. QuoteScan allows you to check stock prices on all the major North American exchanges. With just a few keystrokes, you can receive quotes and trading volume on all your favorite stocks based on twenty minute delayed data. QuoteScan also allows you to display a window that tracks up to 5 stocks at the frequency you select. Catch the price changes when they happen, not the next day.

How QuoteScan works

After you start QuoteScan, enter the ticker symbol of a stock and specify how often you want the price updated. At the frequency you select, QuoteScan sends a request to the PC Quote Web site for the current price and trading volume of the selected stock, based on twenty minute delayed data, and displays the reply.

Lycos™ Web Search

The World Wide Web grows larger every day which makes finding interesting Web sites more difficult and time-consuming. Lycos Web Search includes a database to help you sift through the mountains of data on the Web and retrieve the information you need. Keep the Internet Mania CD-ROM in the drive while running Lycos Web Search.

How Lycos Web Search works

Lycos Web Search includes a copy of one of the world's most extensive Internet databases and provides a user-friendly interface to allow you to easily locate sites of interest in the database.

Web Catalog

Web Catalog is a topic-based search utility that complements Lycos Web Search. Rather than searching for keywords on Web sites, Web Catalog accesses a database that categorizes Web sites by the type of topics they address. From the database, it creates a list of Web sites that match the topic you select. Keep the Internet Mania CD-ROM in the drive while running Web Catalog.

How Web Catalog works

Web Catalog displays a list of topics that are available in the database. If you select a topic from that list, Web Catalog checks the database and displays a second list that contains Web sites related to the topic you selected.

Corel FTP

Corel FTP simplifies the process of keeping track of files and directories on FTP sites. By creating a user interface that looks and works like Windows Explorer, you can easily find and download the files you require from various FTP sites. You can copy files from FTP sites to your system, and create and rename directories and files on FTP sites.

How Corel FTP works

Corel FTP keeps track of files on the FTP sites that you specify. When you enter the name of an FTP site, Corel FTP contacts that site to get the root directory information from the site. It then displays any files and subdirectories located there. If you select a sub-directory, Corel FTP contacts the FTP site again for a list of files and directories in that sub-directory. In this way, Corel FTP determines the directory and file structure of the site and displays the information graphically so that it resembles the directory structure on a hard drive.

Home Page Author

Web pages help you organize your information into manageable sections of text and images. For example, you can add blocks of text, headings, separators, lists, pictures, and Internet addresses anywhere on the home page. You have control over the color and typeface of the text and the background color of the pages.

How Home Page Author works

When you start Home Page Author, you can start to create a Web page immediately. Insert a header, blocks of text, GIF files, and other HTML objects to produce electronic documents.

Personal Web Server

Since so many people have Web browsers and there are so many ways of creating HTML documents, it's time that people had a simple way to make information available on the World Wide Web. Personal Web Server allows you to create your own Web server and provide information on the Web. You can create pages for use in Personal Web Server using Home Page Author.

How Personal Web Server Works

Personal Web Server allows you to turn your own computer into a World Wide Web server. HTML pages you create with Home Page Author or other authoring tools can be used by Personal Web Server to provide information across the World Wide Web.

Personal Web Server keeps track of how many and how often people visit your Web site. If you want to stop sharing a file, you can just delete it from the list. Personal Web Server is most beneficial if you have a full-time Internet connection, but even if you don't, you can still enter the world of Internet providers on a temporary basis.
