AAA See Size Subs

Version 1.01

Registering. If you like this program, please register, it enables me to make better versions and new & different programs. I can tell you how to bypass the title screen when starting the program. It's only $10 and I will send you all the info I have on ZR Program Center (just once, no junk mail) and a listing of all current Scandere Software shareware, freeware, and retail programs. This includes a complete list of Scandere Software's AAA programs, very small but powerful utilities, and the super-utilities of the ZR line of programs.

Description: Graphs directory and/or sub-directories on a color window pie chart. Simutaneously charts percentages and sizes of directories many levels deep.Easy and fun to use. Shows at a glance which directories and their subs are using up the most disk space. Uses memory only, no need to write large disk maps.

How to use: Choose directory or sub-directory to chart then click button 'See Size Subs'. When search is completed you can click a sub-directory in the top box and see all sub-directories of that sub-directory in the lower box as well as percentages stating their size relative to that second sub-directory, just as the percentage in the green letters states the second sub-directory's size relative to the first directory you initially chose. When graphing, click anywhere on the window to close graph. Top item on list of directories starts at 3 o'clock and continues counter-clockwise down the list.

 Changes from 1.01: CNew ability to bypass title screen for registered users. Change in color setup which caused 2 black colors in first fifteen items, changed to dark red. (This color change was not necessary for ZR FileWorks 6.2 Turbo as it was corrected before that program was released. A new setup file for ZR-FW was created on 2/20/95 which prevents a premature shutdown before the installation is complete. The current version ZRFW.ZIP's file size is 368,438 bytes.) Shareware id number built into program.
