

Auto Check-Up '96

Thanks for choosing Auto Check-Up '96. This 32-bit application keeps track of your car's maintenance history. Here's what's new for ACU96:

- Now a 32-bit Windows95 application
- Tracks gas mileage and cost
- Added a report to print gas mileage and costs
- Single-form tabbed selection of entry screens
- Simplified data entry
- Registration and Services database is now static. No need to register every database!
- Registration code is now required to unlock some services

The function of ACU96 is simple: Just click on the tab you wish to go to, press ADD, enter your data in the fields, and press save. Your entry will be added and sorted by the date of service.

If you wish to delete an entry, just click on the grid to the left of the entry, and press DELETE on your keyboard. that's it!

To add a service to the dropdown list, just click on the Reports/Registration tab and enter it on the Services grid.

There are a few features that are not available in the unregistered version. You can not create a new database using the New command. Also, if you attempt to create a database by copying the default database, ACU96 will NOT open it. That is the only restriction. This leads me into the part that we all hate so much:

Steven Day (that's me) is not responsible for any damages caused to you, your business, or your computer due to the use or misuse of this program. All this program is guaranteed to do is take up space on your hard drive. Auto Check-Up 96 is not free software. If you use it, and continue to use it after a reasonable trial period (Say, 30 days) then you are morally and legally obligated to register it, or destroy all copies in your possession.
