software that works hard so you don't have to

Cabrio v2.02

the configurable convertor

Quickly and simply calculate the value of that international deal or your tourist cash; find the current time across the world, compare atomic weights, astronomical distances, populations, speeds and temperatures or discover how many teaspoons in a bottle of wine...

...Cabrio is a versatile and fully-editable calculator for converting and comparing across a wide range of units from inches to centimetres, scruples to drams, from concorde to the QE2. Update your exchange rates quickly and easily or import data from other applications.

- Over 70,000 conversion and comparisons built in.
- Automatically integrates any you want to add.
- Copy and paste information between other applications.
- Set up the conversions you use most often via four user levels.

Ideal for businessmen, finance professionals, engineers, teachers, and students and around the home its a useful reference tool.
