BUILD HELP DESKS EASY
Knowledge Quest™ for Windows - Version 4.0 (Now for Windows 95 and Window NT)

If you need to build help desks or any application employing decision tree logic, Knowledge Quest can make that process as easy as drawing the picture of the tree. Knowledge Quest provides a structured drawing environment to allow you to develop your decision tree. Once you have done that you can either have Knowledge Quest generate code for LEVEL5 OBJECT®, a popular expert system tool, or have it build an executable that you can distribute freely.

SHAREWARE
Available since 1988, Knowledge Quest was previously only available as a code generator only for $350. Now we are selling it for a $60.

WHY REGISTER?
It's the moral thing to do. Also you get technical support and notice of new releases. Best of all we are building a version that generates a web server applet. Yes that means, you can have your help desk run over the web. This version, which should be done by year end, goes to registered owners.
