Purpose:

AUDIT_PW was developed to tighten up network security on Novell networks. Many users use very easy to guess passwords. AUDIT_PW uses a file with common passwords to try on each user account. All common passwords are reported.

Syntax:

AUDIT_PW [switches]

/? Help message.

/B=xxx Begin checking at user xxx. If user xxx is not found, no processing is done other than creating the two support files.

/U Process the bindery unsorted.

Files:

AUDIT_PW.DAT ASCII file with common passwords. One password per line.
Located in the same directory as AUDIT_PW.EXE.

$AUDIT.SF Status file. Contains hints about potential and real problems.
Written in current directory.

$AUDIT.UI User Information file. Written in current directory.

Samples of these files can be found later in this document.

Description:

Using SYSCON (Supervisor Option) turn Intruder Detection/Lockout off before starting the program. Remember the settings so you can restore them when your audit is done.

Run CASTOFF to prevent messages from locking the process.

You must have SUPERVISOR rights to run the program.

During the audit, you may hit a key to bring up a menu. This menu allows you to either lock the keyboard, or abort the process. Once locked, you can only unlock (giving the proper password) the keyboard.
