In the event that you need to reach me, here's my internet e-mail addresses ±

alex@data.ACS.CalPoly.EDU (NeXTmail Accepted)

Please remember, when reporting bugs, to please send me a complete description of the problem, and any relevant bitmaps that are causing the problem. Also remember that I only support the converters supplied with the original distribution. If you are having problems with a converter not distributed by me, please contact it's author in person. You should be able to get their name from either the open or save panel via the info button.

Also remember that I'd prefer to receive NeXTMail of bitmaps, but should the mailing prove to be too large, I can accept uuencoded files, in parts, as well. I also have ftp access, so if you can tell me where you got the original from, I can go get it myself. Also, don't worry about picture content, I'm not offended easily, and I'd much prefer to get my program working than to worry about someone else's tastes.

Hopefully you find use for and use my objects.
