

Introduction:

This application is designed to help students visualize the relationship between cosine, sine and tangent curves to a unit circle. The user controls the angle of an arc on a unit circle. The vertical and horizontal components of the angle are displayed on a sine and cosine curve and the ratio of these two components is displayed on a tangent curve.