

Copyright © 1995 Steve Hayman. All rights reserved.

Release Notes

266379_PixelRule.tiff ↵

Version 0.1

Making a project from a selected template works; your library and adaptor selections are ignored. Nothing to do with icons works yet either.

Your nib files may wind up with a main menu called, for instance, BasicProject. So be sure to change the title on the main menu. (select the main menu in the file window and change the title in its inspector.) Apparently if a main menu is titled UNTITLED, its title is changed automatically when the nib file is saved. Unfortunately I don't know how to create a nib file, fool around with it and save it without the menu name being changed.