

Date: Fri, 21 May 93 02:49:21 +0900
From: Michael Shaler <mshaler@tdoplan.sps.mot.com>
To: treed@nobugs.bmt.gun.com
Subject: The Cube will rise again--over Fuji-san!!
Reply-To: mshaler@tdocad.sps.mot.com

Tim,

I don't know if you subscribe to next-nihongo@pinoko.berkeley.edu, but I thought you'd want a copy of this icon. Feel free to submit it to next-icon@nobugs.bmt.gun.com if you think there is interest. 2- and 24-bit versions are included.

(Just because I know you relish these kinds of details, here's how I grabbed the KanjiTalk icon: open KanjiTalk in ResEdit, copy & paste to MacDraw Pro, save as picture, open that in Giffer and use Fetch via MacTCP/IP to ftp the results over to the NeXT, and paste into IconBuilder. Hack until satisfied and go home at ridiculous hours of the night/morning...)

μ¹α·ᾱ...

Michael Shaler
Tokyo Design Center
Nippon Motorola Ltd.
+813 3280 8245 voice
+813 3440 0033 fax
mshaler@tdocad.sps.mot.com [NeXTmail]

Date: Mon, 12 Jul 1993 04:19:07 -0400
From: Timothy Reed <treed@bmt.gun.com>
To: next-icon@gun.com
Subject: Mount Fuji
Reply-To: treed@gun.com

Two more:

For the folder where you keep the Japanese interface to your application, or just for where you track yen/dollar exchange rates.

Scanned from a picture, sharpened in TIFFFany, and hand-enhanced in a pretty uncooperative and buggy IconBuilder.

Fuji-san in 2, 12, and 24-bit color:
Same thing, sobelized by TIFFFany: