Hello,

Here is a little logo banner of NeXTWORLD ExPO for those users and user groups that might need it for their company or user group newsletters.

P.S. I hope to see you at the EXPO. If you are not a recipient of the Nugget News Digest and wish to get periodic electronic updates from now until May on the Expo (sessions, extra events, etc.), please send me your email address and I will include you on the communications.

The icon from my NeXTWORLD Expo folder. Done with IconBuilder when I should have been doing real work. Those of you going to Expo, please stop by and see our software, DBInspector™, in action at the Athena Design booth, and "Shake Hands with Connect!"™ (See flyers at Expo for details!). I'll also be at a few presentations: Connecting to the World, Issues in Systems Administration, and a user-group-related discussion on affordable wide-area networking.
