John Wilkes Booth

Here's John Wilkes Booth, famous for assassinating US President Abe Lincoln. I know: this is a really weird guy to iconize, however I was doing some layout for a friend's record, and this was one of the images he brought. The layout required that I put a mohawk JWB. Not my idea - the guy to blame is Paul Rubin, and I'll send e-mail to those interested when his album comes out so you can picket the stores that carry it.

I made a whole bunch more: a soldier carrying a giant hypodermic needle, Sulu from Star Trek, a 50 foot man, etc. As I get the time to make these presentable I will post to this list.

Scanned with PowerScan 2.0.1, edited with IconBuilder and scaled with Tiffany 1.

These images didn't scale well (they were two-bit and the various methods of scaling that Tiffany 1 offers didn't do as good a job as I'd hoped).
