

"This view of the orbiting space shuttle Atlantis shows its payload: the first atmospheric laboratory for science. The first manned shuttle mission began on 12 April 1981, with the blastoff of the Columbia from Cape Canaveral, Florida. The shuttle landed safely two days later at Edwards Air Force Base in California."