Including Library Research Online and other business and marketing research sites

www.argusclearinghouse.com

- a library site that divides searches into categories: arts and humanities, business and employment, communication and others – can't type in key words, can only search within given categories

www.generallibrary.com

www.lii.org

- good for doing broad searches and great results (a library website)

www.monroe.lib.in.us/childrens/ddchow.html How to use the Dewey Decimal System

www.onelook.com

- a great dictionary site that searched definitions, translations, and all dictionaries – it gives you results with many different dictionary options
