

New Products

There are quite a few new products that will become available over the next month as local distributors get organised. AT the moment they are comin very slowly.

Games

The long awaited new version of Spectre has arrived. It offers faster game play with a new range of obstacles and scenarios. Particular attention has been paid to the network scenarios with the addition of two team games. The fastest network arcade action available. 68030 required with 6.0.7 or later and 4M for System 7.

5,000 very good quality Freehand and EPS images and graphic elements on CD with a complete paper catalog. Very good quality. Also includes 1,500 images from the Apple Computer presentation and documentation graphics library. If you are a graphics artist using Freehand this is a bargain. If you want a source of good quality EPSF graphic elements then this is it.

Expressions

Expressions is a local graphics house that developed the LaserFonts collections that used to be distributed by Mitsui. Expressions has repackaged and repriced their font collections and released their first clip art collection. The Truetype collection is comparable to the other budget collections but offers a greater selection of weights and less variety than the others. If you want a good range of Times and Helvetica weights then this is good value. The Postscript version is overpriced.

The Australiana Clip Art package comes with EPSF and PICT images. The quality is budget, very Australian and notable for a great collection of cars and trucks. There are some images here that anyone could use.

The Special Occasions package is the best value package in the range with 500 images for all occasions and 20 fonts.
