

The most sophisticated system for data security, with unbreakable password protection. Installation is perfectly simple: type in your own password and the program does all the work. DiskLock locks hard disks automatically when you shut down, or when there's a crash or power failure, and will ask for the password to unlock the hard disk when you turn back on. Lock When Idle automatically locks the system if your Mac is unattended for a while, without interrupting background processing, but with a screen saver logo to prevent burn-in. A FolderLock password will protect individual folders and files. The program logs password activity, so you can monitor attempts at unauthorised access, while a virus checker prevents contamination.
