About SelectTime HACK

PalmOS's standard SelectTime dialog doesn't support for enter the minute one by one. But standard Datebook supports any minutes.

Using SelectTime HACK let you allow to enter any minute you want.

Requirement

PalmOS 2.0.4 and later
HackMaster

Installation

If you have installed older version, you should check off at HackMaster.

And if you installed earlier than 0.5.0, you should delete it from your device because the file name has changed. Go to Launcher and select "Delete..." from "Application" menu. And delete "SelectTime" If you found "SelTime", you don't have to delete it.

Install "SelTime.prc" the way as other application.

How to use

Check on at HackMaster.

Tapping “?” at right, information dialog is displayed.

You shouldn't have to Reset. You do this operation once at install first time.

Let's make an schedule “get train 1:07 ~ 1:32” Launch Datebook.

Tap 1:00, the SelectTime dialog will be displayed.

The difference from standard one is up and down triangle buttons for StartTime and End Time. Tapping these buttons, you can change the minute one by one. Tapping up triangle button increases the minute and down triangle button decreases. And hardware up and down scroll buttons are assigned these buttons, too. Then you can change the time which is inverted.

Be sure that the Start time is selected(inverted), tap “05” at right list box and tap up triangle button twice. The time is now 1:07pm.

And tap End Time and do as Start Time.

Other operations (Giraffiti etc.) are supported. See the device’s manual.

Tips

If you like to change the buttons behavior, tap Unlimited logo. Then up and down buttons behavior is change places. Tapping logo flips the behavior. This setting is saved until Reset the device.
