Not Much Documentation for SIMPLFAX

0. What is it?

SIMPLFAX is an extremely simple sample program for sending short fax messages via Delrina's WinFax, targetted at Visual BASIC programmers who want to add such capabilities to their own programs. SIMPLFAX is NOT a complete, Full Tilt Boogie application.

To do anything useful with it, you'll need:

✴ Microsoft Visual BASIC v2.0 Standard Edition or better;

✴ Delrina WinFax PRO v3.0 or better (dunno if the 'Lite' and 'Ultralite' versions will work);

✴ Windows 3.1 or better with the TrueType fonts Arial and Times New Roman installed.

SIMPLFAX's source code will show you how to do the following things:

✴ Getting and/or setting the default Windows printer from within VB;

✴ Retrieving the current WinFax settings from WIN.INI

✴ Sending parameters to WinFax using DDE;

✴ Retrieving the path to WinFax and activating it if it's not already running.

✴ Writing the most terrible text formatting code ever seen.

1. What can I do with it? (In other words: the LICENSE AGREEMENT)

You may freely use and distribute SIMPLFAX, its source code and documentation as long as:

✴ You use the abovementioned materials in a friendly and lawful way;

✴ You don't sell SIMPLFAX or use it as added value in a sales transaction;

✴ You don't distribute modified copies of SIMPLFAX in any way.

You can freely distribute modified versions of SIMPLFAX as long as:

✴ You include a copy of the original SIMPLFAX source code and documentation with your modifications.

You can freely distribute your own programs using ideas or code from SIMPLFAX as long as:

✴ Your product adds significant functionality to the original SIMPLFAX.

There is no license fee for SIMPLFAX. If it is useful in any way to you, however, you're invited to send a nice postcard to the author (see section 2 for address details)

Warranty: If you break it, you own both parts. As this program is absolutely free, the author provides no warranty whatsoever about functionality, stability or usability.
IN NO EVENT THE AUTHOR OF SIMPLFAX WILL BE LIABLE FOR ANY DAMAGES

RESULTING FROM THE USE OF THIS PROGRAM.
