

Welcome to GoCIS Charges!

This program calculates and displays general and detailed information about Compuserve calls, connect time, and charges from GoCIS log files.

- > At startup, calls, connect time and charges are calculated and displayed for the current month.
- > Information can be calculated for specific months or years.
- > For incomplete time periods, projected charges are also calculated and displayed.
- > Information can be saved to formatted text files, or exported to semicolon-delimited text files for import by spreadsheet or database programs.

New in version 1.0:

- > GoCIS Charges now calculates and displays general and detailed information about individual forum activity.
- > A summary of activities in forums can also be displayed.
- > GoCIS Charges now recognizes activity in free forums as free from connect-time charges.
- > Sounds (digital waveform files) can be attached to most program events.
- > Help is now context sensitive.

Requirements

In addition to the files in gcchrg.zip you must have cmdialog.vbx, threed.vbx, commdlg.dll, and vbrun300.dll to run GoCIS Charges. Because you must also have these files to run GoCIS, they should already be installed on your system. Look for commdlg.dll and vbrun300.dll in your windows directory or your windows/system directory. The other two files should be in your windows directory, your windows/system directory or your GoCIS directory. All these files must be on your path to run GoCIS Charges.

Installation and Setup

Create a separate directory for GoCIS on your hard drive. Unzip gcchrg.zip into this directory. That's it! The first time you run GoCIS Charges you will be asked to enter your GoCIS directory. The program will then create a configuration file, gccharge.ini, in your windows directory. Consult context-sensitive online help for a complete description of GoCIS Charges.
