

Female conelets are upright in the top of the tree. Male pollen cones are clustered terminally in the lower part of the tree.