

Genus Betula

There are 3 tree-sized species of Betula that are native to Indiana. All birches have catkins at the ends of branches throughout the winter. Birches have distinct, papery bark with each species having its own unique color.