

Genus Acer

There are 5 species of Acer native to Indiana. All of them have opposite branching. They produce double samaras that fly like helicopters when they fall to the ground.