ResDoubler is Copyright Nathan Mariels 1993, and parts are Copyright Symantec 1991.

I wrote this program because I have a hand scanner and I wanted to scan stuff and print it at twice the size I scanned. Normally, when you blow something up to 2x, it looks jagged, so I wrote this program. If you need to make a picture 4 times the original, double a picture, the load the doubled version and double it again.

you
you

This Program may not be sold without my written permission. You may give anyone a version of this program as long as it has this text and its Shareware message dialog. If you would like to register this program (be a nice person), please send $10 to:

Nathan Mariels
8525 Balboa Ave
Stockton, CA 95209

Please include version number and your address, so I can send you the password.

If you want the source code on how to do windows, dialogs, pict files, and GWorlds, please send me $20 and I will send you a disk with source (minus the doubling algorithm), and the latest version.