

Driver Definitions

Note: Drivers are specialized programs designed to act as an interface between the computer and a particular device

[Text] = Item only exists under given circumstance

- Driver# = Reference number of the driver
 - ◊ Name = Driver name, always preceded by a period
 - ◊ Version = Version of driver ['vers' Resource]
 - ◊ Type = Type of driver [Type Known]
 - ◊ Unit# = Position which the device occupies in the unit table
 - ◊ SCSI# = Number of SCSI device [SCSI Driver]
 - ◊ Status = Open/Closed
 - ◊ Location = ROM/RAM
 - ◊ Address = Hex address of driver
 - ◊ Original Flags Enabled = Flags which were active when the driver was loaded. These flags provide information about how the operating system should interact with the driver
 - ◊ Current Flags Enabled = Flags which are currently active