TECHWORKS UNVEILS NEW MEMORY UPGRADE MODULES FOR DESKTOP AND LAPTOP COMPUTERS

AUSTIN, Tex. – November 11, 1996 – Responding to the computer industry demand for faster speed, lower voltage computer memory upgrade modules, TechWorks, Inc., a leading developer and manufacturer of high performance memory upgrade products, today unveiled a new generation of modules for desktop and laptop computers. The Dual In-line Memory Modules (DIMMs) and Small Outline DIMMs (SO DIMMs) are available in configurations from 8MB to 64MB for desktop and laptop computers.

 "The computer memory market is currently undergoing dramatic changes," said TechWorks VP of Operations Roger Lane. "For example, form factor changes from SIMM to DIMM, DRAM technology changes from Fast Page Mode (FPM) to Extended Data Out (EDO) and Synchronous DRAM (SDRAM), and voltage changes from 5 to 3.3 volt. Also, to keep up with changing motherboard designs, TechWorks has developed buffered and unbuffered modules."

Popular systems using these new technnologies are Dell Dimension and Optiplex lines, Compac Proliant 5000, Toshiba Tecra 500 and Protege 650, IBM 760 Series, Compaq Armanda 1100 and 4100.
