FEATURES

22 SERVING UP THE WEB by Carl Franklin

With the introduction of Microsoft's free Internet Information Server, VB developers now have a jump on easy Web development.

36 WEB SERVER ALTERNATIVES by VBPJ Staff

You can't beat the price of the Microsoft Internet Information Server, but other factors are just as important as price. Consider these alternatives to IIS.

38 TOOLS INCREASE YOUR 'NET WORTH by VBPJ Staff

VB developers venturing into online application development will find that third-party tool providers in this new arena have been very busy indeed.

42 PIECE TOGETHER MICROSOFT'S INTERNET PUZZLE by Roger Jennings

Microsoft's Internet strategy components fit together like the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle, with Microsoft Internet Information Server at the center of the scheme.

46 COLLISION COURSE: JAVASCRIPT AND VB SCRIPT by Michael Templeman

JavaScript and VB Script glue HTML and applets together. So why is there a possibility that script-enhanced Web pages will be incompatible with many Web browsers?

56 CHOOSING YOUR WEB DESIGN TOOL by Michael Templeman

Here's a guide to the pros and cons of Internet publishing tools available today, as well as some speculation on what the future holds.

60 VB3 FORMS ON THE FLY by Michael C. Amundsen

If you provide a generic forms generator with your app, you can address your clients' more specialized needs by modifying a generic form with control tables.
