Three lucky winners can give their computers a face-lift with a new monitor and CD-ROM drive from LG Electronics. And there are two CD-ROM drives for the runners-up.

First prize

If the spring sunshine is showing up the cobwebs on your computer, you'll be keen to dust it down and bring it bang up to date. Our three first-prize winners this month will receive a double package from LG Electronics that will have their PCs looking as good as new.

The first part of the first prize is the fabulous new Studioworks 56D monitor. Studioworks monitors have a name for excellence, with vibrant colours and razor-sharp images, and the 56D is no exception. Its flat 15in screen has a maximum resolution of 1,280x1,024, and support for 1,024x768 at a refresh rate of up to 80Hz. The 56D is Windows 95 Plug and Play compatible, so installation is a breeze.

The 56D has side panel-mounted DOME stereo speakers, and there are jacks for earphone and microphone too.

If you haven't yet experienced the delights of a CD-ROM drive, or if you're struggling with a 2x or 4x model, you'll appreciate the CRD-8160B CD-ROM drive. One of the newest 16x MAX models, its average access time is blisteringly fast, at less than 100ms and it has a maximum transfer rate of 2,400kb/s (kbytes per second).

Runners-up

Two runners-up will also win a CRD-8160B CD-ROM drive.

How to win

Simply answer the questions below and complete the tie-breaker.

1. Which company manufactures the Studioworks 56D?
2. What is the maximum screen resolution of the Studioworks 56D?
3. What is the average access time of the CRD-8160B CD-ROM drive?

Tie-breaker

Winning a prize in this month's competition would make me dance around the maypole because...
