Battleships Instructions

Installing Battleships:

Copy the file BATTLE.APP from the PC to the "/APP" directory on the Psion. While in the desktop, press Psion-I to bring up the Install dialog box. Select "Battle" and press Enter. The Battleships icon should now appear on the desktop. (It looks like   this:)

Beginning a New Game:

On the desktop, highlight "Battle" and press Enter.   When you start a new game, you first have to place your five ships. Use the arrow keys to position them, Space to rotate them and Enter to place them. The computer then places it's ships, and the game begins.

Playing:

You and the Computer take turns in firing a shell at the enemy's fleet. You always start first. As before, use the arrow keys to aim your gun, and press Space to fire. If you hit an enemy ship, the square under the target will display an "X". If you miss, the square just displays some water, with nothing else in it.

The same applies with the computer. If it hits one of your ships, an "X" will be displayed on "Your Fleet's" board. If it misses, it'll just display water.

Things to Remember:

- There are no cheats in Battleships, but the game can be made easier if you know where to look…
- Pressing Psion-X will exit the game.
- When placing your ships, try not to place them next to each other. The computer takes advantage of this, and will probably destroy adjacent ships.
