Here is a sample group of graphics that I am developing for distribution in the commercial market. I don't intend to market the PageMaker graphic but it lends itself to illustration of the power of Superpaint™ by Silicon Beach Software. To be fully appreciated, these need to be printed out on a LaserWriter. The resolution is incredible!

I hope to have the project completed soon. Just a note: none of these drawings and graphics are done on a scanning device of any kind—alas, there are some purists left on this planet. (Don't misunderstand, scanners have their use—they are invaluable, but art lends itself to expression of the individual and scanners are reproduction devices—not art producers.)
