

My name is Scott White, and I am currently attending The Savannah College of Art and Design, where I have been enrolled since 1987. In March I will graduate with a B.F.A. degree in Graphic Design. Upon graduation, I plan to return home to Atlanta, Georgia, where I will pursue a career in this field.

My interest in art has been with me from a very early age. Drawing has always been my strongest talent, but it wasn't something I initially wanted to make a career of. I've always had a soft spot for film and video production, and I even started out majoring in video, but I ultimately changed majors to graphic design, where my true talent lies, and I have found it to have been one of the wisest decisions I have ever made. I still love film and video, but I would rather do something that I really enjoy and am able to do well.
