About Turned On DA

Turned On™ is a DA which will show you how much time your computer has been running since it was last switched on. It gives this information in hours, minutes and seconds in a digital clock format (as can be seen in the screen dump) and also in days and weeks. The days are set up in a standard seven day format. Also it functions as another type of clock. This program is accurate to within a second, (disk accesses and the like will occasionally slow it down, but it will catch up with itself).

To install this program, simply use Font/DA mover or use a utility program like Suitcase. This DA is compatible with all Macs from the 128k on up.

I hope that you find this program useful. Have fun.

The End

This program is provided as shareware, if you like it and use it, all I ask is that you send me either $5.00. If you give this program to others, please give them an unmodified copy (Documentation and the program and any other materials included with the original package) so that they have an original copy and realize their shareware obligations.

Send shareware fee and any other correspondence to:
