Product Description

Produced by Full Spectrum Warrior™ developer Pandemic Studios, Destroy All Humans!, turns players' conventional expectations of playing the human defending against an alien invasion to now allow them to play the alien hell bent on infiltrating and taking over all of humanity. DAH! delivers an open ended world where the player can rain down destruction from his UFO or land at any point to walk among the humans as the 3rd person alien subverting and terrorizing all of humanity. Packed with humorous science-fiction mythology and tons of conspiracy theory. Players will soon discover that it is better to be the superior being. Scheduled for release on the PlayStation2 and Xbox in early 2005.

Features:

- Turn the tables on the classic Alien vs. Humans storyline. In Destroy All Humans!, play from the Alien perspective and finally know what it feels like to have the upper hand
- Arm yourself with a variety of alien weaponry on land or in the air. Use the Ion Detonator, the Zap-O-Matic, the Sonic Boom, or even the Quantum Deconstructor to eradicate feeble humans
- Explore and interact with 5 huge environments using an arsenal of alien abilities to manipulate humans into submission: hypnotize, body-snatch, read minds, levitate and more
- Take to the skies in your UFO, abduct animals, cars, and humans for research, or cause large scale destruction
- Packed with familiar and popular sci-fi references
