

When you save as a self-contained movie:

The new file includes all the movie's contents exactly as they are played.

Any parts you pasted are stored in the movie file, and any parts you deleted are purged from the file.

The file's size on disk changes accordingly.