

Important:

When you open or click in the Help window, you make this window active and the movie window becomes inactive.

Before you follow any instructions for working with a movie, click in the movie window to make it active.