

You may need to install a font:

This Help system was designed to be displayed using the New York font in 10-point size.

If this font is missing from your Macintosh, the system substitutes a different font. This can make the Help screens harder to read.

In a few cases, text may continue beyond the visible screen area.