

A movie has dependencies if it uses parts from other movies but does not actually store copies of these parts. The original movies must be present for the new movie to play.

You can eliminate dependencies by resaving the movie as a self-contained movie. (See the main topic "Saving a Movie.")

To open a movie from the list in the Movie Info window, double-click the movie's name in the list.