

Highlight HTML

At the bottom of the HyperText, Anchor, Heading and Font palette menus is the Highlight HTML command, which will highlight (bold or underline) instances of the specified HTML tags in the current document. This is particularly helpful in highlighting (ie., underlining) the hypertext of your document. The highlighting style is set on the Editor Preferences section of the Preferences card.

Note that because HTML is stored in a text file format, the style of the document text is not saved on export (ie., this is not a WYSWYG editor), so this highlighting is only useful to assist you in editing.

Back to Index HTML, on to Preview Menu, or return to Tool Palette Menus.
