RTF Conversion Table Instructions

RTF Conversion is accomplished using a variety of methods, including both programmed conversion and simple code replacement. Both of these tables are used for converting RTF to HTML on import. Each line contains two items; the first the search string; the second, the replacement string. In each case, the search string is the RTF code to be replaced with the second item, the HTML tag or entity.

Back to Conversion Preferences, or return to Contents.