

elect Export from the File menu to Display this window.

When you click on OK, the current TimeTracker document is saved as a tab-delimited file. This file can then be imported or read by any database or word-processing application.

For example, let's say you want to print the information differently than how TimeTracker prints it. Export the document, and then import it into a database program. Now you will have much greater control on how the printed information looks.