GRIPES

A couple of registered users have asked me why they can't pay by credit card or contact me by e-mail. I'm sorry but I don't have £350.00 to burn with anybody let alone the credit card companies. I work from home and need access to my phone day and night. Only when British Telecom get round to providing cheaper telephone calls and line rentals will I consider a second phone line and joining the internet.
