

Installation

To install CyberAssistant, simply drag the CyberAssitant control panel on to your closed System Folder (or place it in your Control Panels folder within you System Folder). You must then restart your Macintosh for CyberAssistant to load.

You can select the CyberAssistant control panel to customize CyberAssitant's features.

System Requirements

CyberAssistant will run on any Macintosh running System 7.5 or later. It requires PlainTalk™ be installed. PlainTalk™ is Apple Computer's speech technology and is installed by default in System 7.5 or later. Certain functions of CyberAssistant also require the scriptable Finder, also installed as part of System 7.5.
