

Dear Macromedia Developer,

Thank you for choosing Macromedia software development tools. It is through your use of our tools that multimedia has become the most powerful way to teach, learn, inform and entertain.

The enclosed license agreement allows developers and publishers to distribute commercial end-user software that contains Macromedia Director and Authorware Professional run-times free of royalties, provided they include the Made with Macromedia trademark used in accordance with Macromedia guidelines.

The Made with Macromedia brand will be developed by Macromedia through advertising, trade shows, public relations, multimedia galleries and other marketing communications activities. If you are interested in specific co-marketing opportunities with Macromedia, please feel free to contact me.

The enclosed Quick Reference sheet and Run-Time Distribution Agreement define the specific licensing terms. If you are unsure of your need to comply with this agreement, please contact me through email, fax or phone.
