Dear Interested Reader;

Welcome to Software Valley. We are a not-for-profit organization dedicated to bringing the benefits of the information society to all citizens. We are headquartered in West Virginia where our focus is on enabling, through technology, our own and neighboring communities. This, we believe, is an essential condition to achieve a rural America that survives. Such technology-empowered communities will forge a new partnership between rural and urban America to benefit all mankind.

Our goal is to create and sustain high value jobs and make them accessible to everyone, even those in the most remote locations. We believe this is possible by linking interested and skilled individuals, organizations, and institutions across our nation and around the world. Such networking can serve as the basic supporting infrastructure for the creation of competitive products which can be developed, distributed, and maintained in the electronic commerce marketplace.

We are a membership organization and we invite you and your family/organization/institution to become a member. In so doing you will join the many others nationwide who now are a part of the Software Valley movement. Over the past 10 years the dedicated efforts of our members and sponsors have literally transformed a landscape dominated by extractive industries into one which will be the information capitol of the world. Join today -- by filling out the form on page 7 or connecting to our information system (see page 8) -- and begin to extend to your community the Software Valley vision.

Sincerely,

Richard P. Dowell
