

Mover95 v2.0 for Windows95

Copyright (c) 1995 by Software Innovations

Welcome

Welcome to Mover95. The ultimate utility for moving applications between drives or directories changing along the way automatically all the associated Configuration files (INI), shortcuts (on any drive!), StartUp Files (Autoexec.bat, Config.sys, Autoexec.dos, Config.dos) etc etc ...

Why Mover95 ?

Many PC users have more than one harddrives installed in their machines. So it is very common that after installing programs, they see (for instance) that their C: drive is full and that it might be a very good idea for them to be able to move some programs from C: to another drive (D:).

If you use a commercial UnInstaller (such as Cleansweep) you can move only 1 program at a time, which should also have been installed with that same UnInstaller, in order for it to be moved properly.

Mover95 can move safely not only 1 application but even a whole folder containing more than one applications! For example Mover95 can move the whole "Program Files" folder in which all Win95 programs are usually installed. Just imagine how many hundreds of megabytes you will be able to free, by moving the "Program Files" folder which, for example, contains Visual C++, CorelDraw6, Microsoft Office and more !

And the most powerful feature of all: Mover95 can move the whole Windows95 folder!

If you want you can also organize your folder structure by moving all of the drawing applications into one folder named "Draw Application" and all of your Text-Processing programs into a folder named "Text Applications".

The only (small) problem in this version (it will be solved in the next version) is that, if you move an application to another drive or folder you will not be able to UnInstall it later normally. But you can skip this problem by undoing the application's move operation, and getting it back to its original folder. This is easy to do because Mover95 logs any move operations in its Undo-Logbook.
