

ypercard Player

Hypercard Player is an invaluable tool for reading all your hypercard stacks.

HyperCard stacks are documents you can interact with. You can get stacks designed to balance your checkbook, play games, organize information, show animated movies, and many other things. To run efficiently, this program must be copied to your Hard Drive.

eeper

Keeper is an archiving tool designed to back up your important files, just in case you lose data on your computer. Keeper uses an interface similar to the Finder, making it intuitive to use if you are familiar with the Mac OS. To run efficiently, this program must be copied to your Hard Drive.

onitor

Monitor is a utility for the Macintosh which allows you to see the level of activity taking place within your computer. Monitor presents a number of different types of information including CPU utilization, memory usage and disk space availability. Much of the information presented by Monitor is displayed using graphs.

ativeChecker

How do you know the application is for 68K application or PowerPC native application? With NativeChecker, you can easily know that! Just drag & drop the file into NativeChecker and at once you will see the result dialog.

echTool

TechTool is a renowned program to help when other utilities have come up short. TechTool has the ability to rebuild your desktop, zap your pram, and analyze your system for damaged system files. All this combined with your system profile and an excellent help file which explains in plain English how to utilize its options make this a must have for your utilities folder.