

crapDiary

This is a diary/scrapbook application which allows text, sounds, movies and pictures to be stored on diary pages. Pages can be located by date or by searching for specified words or phrases. To run efficiently, this program must be copied to your Hard Drive.

impleSong

Use the voices of the Speech Manager to "sing" according to your choice of words, pitch, and note duration. Songs written with SimpleSong can be "sung" using any text-to-speech compatible application, such as "SimpleText".

nit

Snit's happy face belies a twisted and somewhat sarcastic personality that becomes painfully obvious once it speaks. It's a small but quite vocal application that sits on your desktop, keeping you company and annoying you.

Take a break from the work day and reconnect to nature with Sundial, a fun, relaxing way to tell time. Sundial scenes change every five minutes and are synchronized to the current time, so you can enjoy the day as it slowly progresses. In addition, using a state-of-the-art software algorithm, Sundial adjusts each movie so that sunrise and sunset coincide exactly with the actual events outside your window--every day of the year. To run efficiently, this program must be copied to your Hard Drive.
