Quiz Exercises

The button 'High scores' takes you to a list displaying the best score for each exercise.

The button 'Registration' takes you to a screen with information on how to register this shareware program. Here, you can print a registration form. This is also where you will enter your user name and registration code when you have registered.

At the top of this menu, the text 'Unregistered Version' will be displayed until you have registered the program. After that, the registered user's name will appear instead.

Exit the program by clicking the 'Exit' button.

Map Exercises

There are two kinds of map exercises: exercises where you must click on the correct area, and exercises where you must click on the correct city.

In both these kinds of map exercises, the name of the area or city to click is displayed at the top of the screen. Depending on if you succeed in clicking the correct area or city the first, second, third or fourth time, the area or city will be displayed in the following colors:

White if you succeed right away.

Light yellow if you get it right the second time.

Yellow if your third click is correct.

Red if it takes you four clicks or more to find the correct spot on the map.

After three clicks, the correct area or city is highlighted in light green. After four clicks, it will be highlighted in blinking light green to make sure you find it!

You can leave the exercise at any time by clicking the 'Exit' button at the top right of the screen. Click the button 'High scores' to see a list of the top ten scores for this exercise.

Quiz Exercises

In a quiz exercise, you're given a question and four possible answers. Click on the correct alternative, or select it by pressing one of the keys 1 through 4. When you select the correct answer, it turns green, and a new question appears after a short pause.

You can leave this exercise at any time by clicking the 'Exit' button, but if you want a chance to get on the high score list, you must answer all the questions for the part of the world you selected.
