

Windows Wizard

The MultiMedia Fortune Teller

Introduction

Windows Wizard is a multimedia fortune-telling game, complete with true voice and animation to make it even more fun to use.

Requirements

Windows Wizard absolutely requires Windows 3.1, plus a sound card which can play back .WAV files. If your system does not have these capabilities, Windows Wizard will be silent. Windows Wizard works best on machines with 25-33 Mhz clock speeds.

Installation

Window Wizard installation is easy. First, copy all the files for the program into a directory on your hard disk. A good bet is to give Windows Wizard his own directory, since he likes to keep his privacy intact. Be sure to copy all the .WAV files into the same directory that holds the WINWIZ.EXE file.

Next, start the Program Manager, then click once in the Program Group you want to hold the Windows Wizard icon. Then, give the File/New command in the Program Manager. Click OK, then fill out all the fields in the dialog box. Make sure to use the complete path to the Windows Wizard files in the command line field, and type the same path into the Working Directory field. When you're done, click OK to install the Windows Wizard icon.

Running Windows Wizard

Double-click on the crystal ball to fire up the Wizard.

To use the program, click the [Ask Now!] button, or just press <Enter>. Type a question in the dialog box, then click OK or press <Enter>. Be sure to ask questions which can be answered with a Yes or No response, or the Wizard's answers may not make much sense.

To exit the program, just click the [Exit] button or press <Esc>.

That's it!

License Stuff

Windows Wizard is free, but is a copyrighted program by George Campbell, and all rights are reserved. You may give it away to anyone, but may not sell it except as part of a disk of public domain or shareware software. The program must remain unchanged, all files, including this document must be distributed with the program.

Other Products

I offer a wide range of software for DOS and Windows 3.x. All my software is shareware and never costs more than $15 per copy. You're welcome to take a look at any of my programs, and can find them on CompuServe, other services, or download them from my BBS at (805) 528-3753. Here's a partial list:

Rockford! 2.0 -- Windows 3.x WYSIWYG business card design program. Easy and useful, it even lets you include clip art to your business cards.

MultiLabel 2.0 -- Also for Windows 3.x, this program lets you print multiple copies of the same label on your laser printer. Clip art, all Windows fonts, every Avery Laser Label format, and serial numbers.

Fonter 4.1 -- View and print all your Windows 3.x fonts in several ways. This program even makes a complete book of your fonts for quick reference.

BurnIn 4.5 -- For DOS, this program is a complete stress tester for all PCs. Run it to make sure there are no hidden problems in your hardware while it's still under warranty.

Check these programs out by downloading them from my BBS, or drop me a line and I'll send you a brochure on any or all of them. You get a 100% guarantee of satisfaction.
